the book provides a critical analysis of the geographies of everyday life looking at how spatial practices craft w r iggle room to cope with the boundaries saturated by normativity power relations and inequalities it explores the possibilities for making do with the everyday practices forming a way of living in cramped spaces in this respect early career researchers and activists share their fieldwork experiences through an intersectional lens based on emerging research methodologies and scholar activist practices from their own vantage point they look at their own contexts practices and research subjects at the level of everyday life spatial practices and place based imaginaries from france finland and spain to turkey and south africa present a wide range of non counter hegemonic yet enabling practices for transformation in everyday life the contributors trained in a variety of convergent disciplines concerned with everyday life and space geography geopolitics architecture urban planning sociology political sciences discuss scholar activist methodologies during the current crisis in contemporary academia reflect on their research methodologies and research experiences and inquire into the ways of embodied negotiations for agency survival and care a group of early career researchers and activists came together to seek out the possibilities of transformative change in everyday life during the peak periods of covid 19 when researchers and activists were forced to stay at home in isolation the authors met up online to discuss their subjectivities self reflexively to challenge the distance between the researcher and the field the book is the outcome of their collective production based on numerous meetings writing workshops and creative debates first published in 1921 the psychology of everyday life covers the major portion of the field known as modern psychology in this work the author has attempted to give such knowledge of modern psychology to enable the person in the street to take an intelligent interest in the psychological problems and discussions of the day today it can be read in its historical context this book is a re issue originally published in 1921 the language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the publishers to any reader by this re publication volume 1 considers the uses to which social representation and modes of social behavior are put by individuals and groups describing the tactics available to the man for reclaiming his own autonomy from the all pervasive forces of commerce politics and culture volume 2 is based on on microhistories that move from the private sphere of dwelling cooking and homemaking to the public the experience of living in a neighborhood delves into the subtle tactics of resistance and private practices that make living a subversive art for mexican catholic women in the united states devotion to our lady of guadalupe la virgen is a necessary aspect of their cultural identity in this masterful ethnography maria del socorro casta eda liles considers three generations of mexican origin women between the ages of 18 and 82 she examines the catholic beliefs the women inherited from their mothers and how these beliefs become the template from which they first learn to see themselves as people of faith she also offers a comprehensive analysis of how catholicism creates a culture in which mexican origin women learn how to be good girls in a manner that reduces their agency to rubble through the nexus of faith and lived experience these women develop a type of mexican catholic imagination that helps them challenge the sanctification of shame guilt and aguante endurance at all cost this imagination allows these women to transgress strict notions of what a good catholic woman should be while retaining life giving aspects of catholicism this transgression is most visible in their relationship to la virgen which is a fluid and deeply engaged process of self awareness in everyday life the phenomenology of everyday life presents results deriving from a rigorous qualitative approach to the psychological study of everyday human activities and experiences this approach is grounded in the philosophical traditions of existentialism and phenomenology and employs dialogue as its major method of inquiry the reasons for these choices are not arbitrary all derive from the view that a proper study of human events must be framed in terms of a philosophy explicitly developed to encompass human activities in addition such events can properly be investigated only on the basis of a method sensitive enough to articulate the nuances of human experience and reflection the purpose of the present work is not to replace scientific observation with humanistic analysis but to provide an additional perspective on significant human questions the phenomenology of everyday life should be of interest to anyone concerned with obtaining a clear and comprehensive description of someone else's experience this includes students and professionals concerned with clinical or social psychology sociology anthropology social work philosophy nursing and education also included are individuals involved in research and practice in business marketing architecture and law patterns of everyday life deals with fundamental aspects of the material life of islamic societies in the formative period three broad sections comprise the scope of the book the first on housing the second on textiles and clothing and the final one on food and drink in each section studies based upon both archaeological and literary sources are included the aim of the collection is to highlight features of continuity between the pre islamic cultures of the middle east and those other aspects which were introduced as a consequence of the development and spread of the islamic religious tradition the editor's introduction to the volume reviews the developments and current trends in each area and notes the problems in constructing knowledge of the material civilisation of the early islamic period
